

Dear Sellers,

There are no words to describe the way we felt when walking into your home earlier today with our daughter. From the moment we pulled into the home, we so appreciated the amazing backyard and the oasis you have made it into. We imagine spending our summer gatherings there and having bonfires during cooler nights. We are first-time homebuyers, and the excitement we felt when walking into your home meant we KNEW we had found our dream home. The excitement grew as we walked through your extraordinary home. Every detail impressed: the stunning crown molding, the character, the history ... every single corner. We are so in love. As we continued our tour through the bedrooms, we couldn't help but notice that your daughter loves bows. Our daughter loves bows too and keeps them together just as your daughter does. Every corner of your home spoke to us. We are humbled by the opportunity to present you with our offer. Please know that if you accept our offer, we will surely continue with the legacy and the love that you have put into it.
